Zardi & Zardi chose this particularly beautiful verdure from the V&A's collection because of its graceful aesthetic. One of our most popular designs, 'Verdure with Birds' is an example of the classic verdure tapestry style that originated in the 17th and 18th centuries in France and Belgium. With their focus on verdant landscapes depicting flora and fauna, verdure tapestries adorned interiors before the arrival of wallpaper. The V&A's tapestry was possibly woven by Raphael de la Planche in Paris around 1625-60.

We have taken the original design and brought this historic fashion statement into the 21st century, making it available now as wallpaper, drapery and wall-hangings.
